Are you in search of a free nice looking "Coming Soon" template for your website? OurTuts is presenting a good looking & free "coming soon" template with few built-in tricks. It informs users with a count-down display (uses jQuery countdown) about when the website will be launched.

The template has a slider in the bottom to display any other information (social network links & a newsletter entry is used by default). It is built with valid XHTML/CSS, works in all major browsers & comes with the .PSD source file for future editing.
