Ubuntu Lucid Lynx - Completely New Look of Ubuntu

Ubuntu is launching a completely new look with Ubuntu 10.4, codenamed Lucid Lynx. Everything will be brand new; the logo, the user interface, and the color scheme (no more brown). It's set to be released on April 29, less than a month away. Ubuntu is already the most popular Desktop Linux distribution, but will this new look, this new branding, make it easier for Ubuntu to cast its net even wider and grow the Linux user base as a whole.

The New Look

The new Ubuntu will have a much more stylish design which seems to have influences from both Microsoft and Apple. According to Ubuntu's branding page, the overall design theme from 2004-2010 was "human", while the new version uses "light" as its overall theme.
