Skoda has plans to launch its globally popular compact SUV (Sports Utility Vehicle) model, Skoda Yeti for the Indian market. It is expected that the company will launch this compact SUV in Indian market in the month of June 2010. Skoda Yeti will be launched in mid SUV segment with a price band of Rs 12 to 15 lacs. The major competitors for this new car in Indian markets will be Mahindra Scorpio, Tata Safari and Mahindra Bolero. So Skoda is planning to launch Skoda Yeti with highly competitive price tag to compete other cars of this segment.

Skoda Yeti Review

Skoda Yeti is a very robust and smart car with class apart looks that not only offers comfort but a great driving experience. In Indian roads, this car is going to shine like a star. The aggressive sporty look of the car is very much irresistible and this head turner is sure to take the breath in just a single glance. Skoda has a very wide portfolio in India and the company is all set to welcome this new SUV which will cover the gap between Skoda Fabia and Skoda Octavia. Skoda Yeti is not a true SUV, it is like a crossover vehicle or we can say that it is a model that exists between a car and an SUV.

Skoda Yeti will be available in diesel option only. The 2.0L diesel engine endowed with 5 Speed Manual Transmission Gearbox will offers not only good performance with amazingly high mileage both in cities and in highways. The diesel engine will be packed with turbocharger that will make the engine very efficient and can also cool the engine very quickly. It is also expected that Skoda Yeti will have TDI CR DPF diesel engine. The highly powerful engine of Skoda Yeti will bring flying colors for this new car. The car is expected to have the brakes and transmission gearbox of Skoda Roomster and suspension of Skoda Fabia.

Skoda Yeti is expected to be designed in amazing combination of style and comfort. Skoda Yeti is expected to be packed with wealth of advance features to attract huge number of car lovers. The elegant and sporty look of the new SUV is surely a head turner with class apart exteriors. The advanced features of the new Skoda Yeti will be the same as of the cars like Skoda Roomster, Volkswagen's SUV Tiguan and Skoda Fabia. Not only exterior of this compact SUV are quite impressive, but its interiors are also stunning. The car is packed with many amazing interior that takes the breath in just a glance. The roomy and spacious interior of the car is one another attractive factor. The instrument panel is nicely placed on the dashboard.

Skoda Yeti will face a tough competition with many SUV's like Tata Safari, Mahindra Scorpio, Maruti Grand Vitara and upcoming Tata Indicruz that might launch soon. The car will be imported as CKD from the parent company and will be assembled at company's Aurangabad plant. India's auto market has much scope for small SUV, and Skoda Yeti is here to fill that gap. However, the Skoda Yeti price of Rs 10 lakh might be a deterrent for any huge sales.
