mbSlider is a multi-purpose, highly customizable content slider. It can slide anything from videos and images, to iframes, flash and html markup. What really makes mbSlider is its customizability. mbSlider has over 19 customizable properties from slide direction, slide speed and animation easing to dynamically generated controls and pagination, slide orientation, mousewheel support and customizable return to start animation. All of this backed up with a solid api documentation, simple installation and low file size makes mbSlider the perfect content slider for your site.

Here is an example of what you can do with mbSlider. All of the examples are achieved purely through using mbSlider's assigned css selectors to style the mbSlider and customizing its property configuration.
